16 Congress St., Ypsilanti.

THE Association takes pleasure in presenting this year a Premium List which has been thoroughly revised, and we hope our patrons will consider the premiums offered sufficient to compensate them for bringing their good and deserving stock, products of the farm, domestic manufactures, and works of art, to be seen and appreciated by others.

Competition is open to the world, and we hope this year to make this the largest and best Fair ever held in this or any other county.

The Association was organized for the express purpose of promoting agriculture and the mechanical and kindred arts, and we want all who have the desire to see the Association prosper, and the purpose for which it was organized accomplished, to lay aside the notion that the premiums offered should be large enough to amply pay every one for their time and trouble; and if they have anything, come and bring it, to be seen by others; and if not, come any way, and see what your neighbors have, for by your patronage only can we make it a success.

J. M. CHIDISTER,
Sec'y.

THE YPSILANTIAN

Although less than two years old, THE YPSILANTIAN has gained upon its merits the

LARGEST CIRCULATION

Ever enjoyed by any paper published in Ypsilanti, and now stands among the leaders of the press in Washtenaw, Wayne and Monroe Counties, in influence and standing.

It is exceeded in size by no paper in this section, and is not equalled, in amount or quality of reading matter furnished, by any rival.

FRESH AND PURE

It has become the paper for the masses.

No immoral advertisements, no improper reading, admitted to its columns.

2. Admission tickets, twenty-five cents; children under twelve years of age, ten cents.

3. Each conveyance entering the ground on the second and third days, shall pay a daily charge of twenty-five cents. On payment of said sum, the Treasurer will furnish members with a carriage ticket for the day, to be attached to the harness, so as to be easily seen by the gate-keeper.

4. All articles intended for exhibition must be entered at the business office, at the entrance of the show ground, before entering the enclosure; and particular care should be taken that they be entered in their proper classes.

5. The Superintendents will receive the articles designed for exhibition in their several departments, arrange them in their proper places, and exercise the necessary care over them during the Fair.

6. Exhibitors will be careful to have their animals and articles arranged in their proper places, and in season; otherwise they will be overlooked by the Viewing Committee.
